DELEGATE HANDBOOK

Honorable delegates, dearest advisors,

This handbook contains the basic information about Prague public transport, how to navigate through conference venues or who to call when you're in trouble. Few additional fun facts and information made it to the handbook as well. We recommend that – unless you were given a hard copy – you download this document and keep it in your phone at all times.

Good luck debating,

Your PRAMUN Team

2. Finding your way

2.1. Between the hotel and the school

Prague boasts one of the best public transport networks in the world and we will be using the iconic Prague trams throughout the whole conference. It takes about 15 minutes from the hotel to Jan Neruda High School, using tram no. 22. Don't forget to validate your CZK 30 ticket after getting on a tram – if you forget, you may be fined around EUR 40 (CZK 1000).

direction	tram	where to find the stop	number of stops
To the school	22 from Malovanka to Hellichova (direction of Nádraží Strašnice)	Malovanka: right in front of the hotel. Hellichova: follow the tram rails and take the second left.	7 stops (13 mins)
To the hotel	22 from Hellichova to Malovanka (direction of Vypich or Bílá hora)	Hellichova: at the corner (lights junction). Malovanka: right in front of the hotel.	7 stops (16 mins)

For the best info about Prague public transport, we recommend downloading Prague's public transport app ("PID Lítačka") from your app store / google play or using Google Maps. You can also buy tickets through the app.

The hotel address is: HOTEL PYRAMIDA, Bělohorská 24, Prague 6

The school address is: GYMNÁZIUM JANA NERUDY, Hellichova 457/3, Prague 1

Do not wave taxis off the street, taxi scams are quite common in Prague. You can use the following taxi apps in the city without a problem. They are also cheaper:

- Uber,
- Bolt,
- Liftago (a Czech company).

3. Debating essentials for delegates

Dear delegates, whether you're an MUN veteran or a debating rookie, please make sure to stick to the following rules. They ensure that everyone has a say and is treated with respect. On top of that, they help your chairs to do their job and keep the debate constructive and smooth.

1. Refer to your country in third person.

You're not representing your own views but the position of your country. That's why.

2. Stand up when talking.

It is polite to the delegate who has the floor and also helps your blood circulation.

3. No comments, only questions.

Questions are a great way to keep the debate constructive. Comments, not so much.

4. Don't address other delegates directly without permission.

Let's not turn this conference into a zoo.

5. Stick to your country's policy.

Because that's why we're here, right? To represent our country.

6. No phones whatsoever.

Duh.

7. Other minor rules:

- a. Yield the floor when you are done talking.
- b. Resolution needs at least one delegate's second ("The house has heard the resolution, is there a second?" – "Second!")

How to submit a resolution?

You draft it in your committee during the lobbying period along with at least 4 other delegates (who are then your co-signatories). You can sign only one resolution per topic. Both topics should be discussed during the lobbying period.

After that, you take your draft on a flash drive to the approval panel (in teachers' room) where MUN advisors help you finalize it and check for errors and typos. And that's it, you're ready to change the world!

4. Czech 101

Vážení delegáti, milí učitelé – honourable delegates, dear teachers,

Our conference is not only about debating. We also try to share our Czech culture, traditions, art and history with you. And as proud Prague citizens, we also aim to make you fall in love with our home city and make you come back.

To help you understand us a little more, we bring you this small English-Czech dictionary to help you get acquainted with our playful yet incredibly difficult language. And don't worry, even Czechs have problems pronouncing Ř.
